EVOQ is a recognized leader in heritage conservation and architecture in Inuit and First Nations communities. As part of our firm's ongoing development, we are seeking an Architect or an Architecture Intern with 2 to 4 years' experience and a keen interest in Northern architecture, sensitive to Inuit and First Nations communities. The ideal candidate demonstrates a strong interest in different construction techniques; applies their skills in fit-out and design; and stands out for their simple and effective approach. The candidate is skilled with graphic communication and working within a 3D environment. The incumbent will contribute to major projects in remote communities currently facing important social and technological challenges related to development. The chosen candidate will join an eclectic and energetic team whose projects have a significant, positive social impact in aboriginal communities.

Summary

The selected candidate will have the opportunity to work on a variety of architectural projects requiring specialized expertise; including airport terminals, community and cultural centres, social housing, municipal infrastructure, sports and health complexes, and projects in the mining and energy sectors.

Principal responsibilities

The selected candidate will be responsible for the following:

- Contributing to various phases of projects: pre-design, schematic design, design development, construction documents and specifications, tender, construction contract administration and commissioning;
- Participating in the production of construction documents and drawings of all types using software such as AutoCAD and REVIT;
- Identifying and resolving technical problems;
- Evaluating design conformity;
- Participating in the preparation of expert reports;
- Conducting site surveys;
- Participating in site meetings;
- Conducting site review at the office and on-site and leading site meetings;
- All related tasks as required.

Your profile

- University degree in architecture;
- 2 to 4 years of experience in architecture;
- Proficient in Microsoft Office Suite, AutoCAD, REVIT and Adobe Suite (Photoshop and InDesign);
- Fluent in French. Good command of English, an asset.

Working conditions and environment

- Flexible work schedule;
- Employee benefits package (group insurance plan);
- Competitive salary based on experience;
- Company-paid OAQ membership dues;
- Office in the heart of downtown Montreal (Place des spectacles);
- Opportunities for travel to far-northern (Nunavik, Nunavut) and First Nations communities;
- Stimulating and dynamic work environment;
- Year-round social, cultural and sporting activities
- Learning opportunities on Inuit and First Nations culture (conferences, events, training)
- Envable employee training program focused on the development of the identified skills and competencies.

Submit your application (cover letter, CV and portfolio) via email to the Human Resources department at rh@evoqarchitecture.com.

All applications will be evaluated. Only selected candidates will be contacted. We thank you for your interest in our firm. Do not hesitate to share this job offer with friends and colleagues interested in new career opportunities.
