SUMMARY

DOWNTOWN MONTREAL OFFICE

EVOQ's contemporary architecture team is led by Gilles Prud'homme and Nathan Godlovitch; both pillars of the late Dan Hanganu's firm whose remaining team members were integrated into EVOQ in 2017. They are currently working on several large projects characterized by complex contextual questions that challenge the architect to interpret and reconcile, in a contemporary way, the constraints associated with sensitive urban and regional sites heavily steeped in meaning. One of the great qualities of their work is their ability to create projects with strong presence that still demonstrate sensitivity to their respective contexts.
